

Preserve the quality of your wine from the first glass to the last

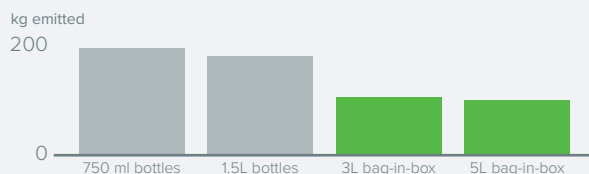

As market demand for premium wine and spirits grows, Liquibox continues to develop innovative bag-in-box packaging solutions, dispensing options and filling equipment to preserve the quality and flavor of your wine. Compact and versatile bag-in-box packaging is perfect for sporting events, parties and outdoor activities, and its larger format options deliver convenient dispensing for bar and food service applications.

Why choose bag-in-box for wine?

Bag-in-box flexible packaging for wine is a more sustainable, cost-effective and convenient solution to glass bottles, and it ensures a longer shelf life for your wine once opened. Bag-in-box meets the growing industry need for practical and more sustainable alternatives to glass bottles.

Bags and films for wine

Premium boxed wines require the highest levels of preservation. At Liquibox, we offer a wide range of barrier film technologies to protect your wine against UV light and oxidation, including METPET with PE, EVOH with PE layering and our Vino₂Gard™ film.

Liquibox's Vino₂Gard wine film has a patent-pending design consisting of a specially engineered high-barrier laminate with a proprietary product contact inner layer.

With Vino₂Gard, consumers can enjoy unprecedented protection from oxidation with a targeted shelf life of 18 months versus the industry standard of 12 months.

Our bags are available in 1.5L, 3L, 5L and 10L with custom sizing options available.

Dispensing fitments for wine

Our wine taps provide excellent oxygen barrier, good directional flow and ergonomic designs for easy dispensing by the consumer.
